Student Responsibility:

My signature below certifies that I have read and understand the statements and policies on this form. I am aware that I must report any change of address to the Registrar's Office.

Students studying abroad may not be eligible for the same benefits. Please make an appointment to meet with the Certifying Official before you begin the process of choosing which study abroad programs to apply.

The Registrar's Office is required to report non-attendance to the VA. If you stop attending a class, you must notify the VA Certifying Official immediately so an adjustment in credits can be reported to the VA. You will be responsible for repaying money to the VA if your failure to attend/participate results in an adjustment of your tuition and fee benefit.

The following do not count toward payment of veterans educational benefits:

- 1) Courses with failing grades (F or F1) from non-attendance or official withdrawal (W)
- 2) Audited courses.
- 3) Courses for which you have already been granted credit (see VA guidelines for details).
- 5) Self-Instructional Language (SIL) courses.

You are responsible for paying your College bill according to the established due date. The failure of the VA to pay your benefit to you or the College in time to meet the College payment due date does not cancel your financial responsibility. You are also responsible to Davidson College and/or the VA for any overpayment or underpayment of benefits resulting from a withdrawal from the College or from earning failing and/or WA grade(s) that result(s) in a change credit hours.
